MODERATE UPTURN IN COTTON PRICES

Covering by Shorts on Fear of More Texas Rains Causes Rally.

CROP OUTLOOK IS BETTER

Doubtful, However, if Southwest Can Fully Recover From Bad Start.

Cotton States Weather. For North Carolina and South Carolina thunder showers to-day and probably tomoderate northeast to east winds orgia, thunder showers to-day and probably to-morrow; light variable winds. For Alabama, local thunder showers to day and probably to-morrow; light moderate south winds on the coast.

For Mississippi, partly cloudy to-day; un settled to-morrow; probably local thunder showers; light to moderate south winds. For Louisiana, fair to-day and to-morrow except local thunder showers; light so moderate south winds.

For eastern Texas, fair to-day and probably to-morrow; moderate south winds. For western Texas, fair to-day; fair to except showers and cooler in the little change in temperature. There was a moderate upturn in cotton vesterday, due chiefly to covering of shorts, although trade buying was around the low prices of the day. The buying was induced chiefly by fears of a re-turn to wet weather in the Southwest, notwithstanding the fact that the Government forecast called for a continuance of fair conditions. Local and New Or-leans weather map readers, however, appeared to attach more importance to cer-tain barometric formations in the South-west and stubbornly held to the idea that there would be more moisture in the Western belt, at least by Sunday.

As Liverpool was closed, there was not the usual amount of arbitrage selling that has characterized trading in the last few days. The English market will be closed to-day and will not reopen for business until Monday. Weekly figures made a until Monday. Weekly figures made a less bearish howing than was expected, as it was believed that the Whitsuntide holidays in Lancashire would cut down holidays in Lancashire would cut down spinners' takings considerably. The into sight for the week was 79,037 bales, against 61,641 last year. Total for the season, 14,129,236, against 13,436,480 last year. The visible supply of American cotton is now 2,654,000 bales, against 2,514,000 last year. Spinners' takings for the week were 195,854 bales, against 229,045 last year. Interior stocks are now 247,000 bales, against 280,000 last year.

Although the crop outlok is improving as a result of scattered showers in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi and fair weather in Texas, it is believed that too much has been taken for granted by this brief return of desirable conditions. It is generally assumed that as June is the most favorable month in the cotton season the next report will show an improvement of 3 to 4 points, placing the condition at 78. It is recalled, however, that in 1993 the June condition was 74.1, followed by a recovery to 77.1 in July, with 73.7 in August and 81.2 in September. The crop then went to pieces, however, and the low yield of that season laid the basis for the so-called Sully campaign, when cotton was boosted to

THE GRAIN MARKETS.

Wheat Is Firm and Quiet-Corn Ad vances Fractionally.

Wheat was firm for the greater part of yesterday's session, and prices moved within very narrow bounds. Trade was within very narrow bounds. Trade was light, as none of the speculative interests was inclined to increase commitments in view of the forthcoming Government report, which will be issued on Monday. There was a little selling late, attributed to some especially favorable crop reports from the winter wheat belt, and under this the market worked off to levels a shade below the finals of the preceding day. None of the day's crop news favored holders, but the firmness of cash wheat, light primary receipts and belief that exporters were active deterred the bears. There were further rains in Canadian and American spring wheat territory, while American spring wheat territory, while precipitation was also reported in several of the winter wheat States. The Modern Mill r said wheat harvest is progressing in Texas, Oklahoma and Tennessee under fairly favorable conditions. The outlook in Kansas and Nebraska is described. as exceptionally promising. Bradstreet's exports for the week were 4.083,000 bushels, against 5.760,000 bushels last week, and 5.761,000 bushels last year.

week, and 6,761,000 bushels last year.
The corn market showed a rather hard tone under good buying prompted by reports of light country supplies and unfavorable Argentine advices. Cash business was lighter. Argentine shipments for the week were 2,380,000 bushels, against 1,082,000 bushels the previous week and 6,222,000 bushels last year.
Outs tyled heavy under force salling Oats ruled heavy under freer selling brought on the market as a result of rains and generally favorable crop news. Cash buying was of fair proportions.

Revocation of Charter Sought on Ground That Body Practises Law.

Deputy Attorney-General Joseph A. Kellogg held a hearing yesterday in the rooms of the New York County Lawyers Assoclation on an application to the Attorney General to annul the charter of the Jewellers Board of Trade of New York on the ground that it is engaged in practising law in violation of the statutes and that one of the chief purposes of the association is to handle bankruptcy proceedings in behalf of its members and collect their claims, charging a fee for its services in all cases. It is alleged that the board got $42,981 in fees last year, collected $540,647 not only for its members but other jewelry concerns and acted as counsel in claims aggregating $4,330,741.

Edmund N. Stone, secretary of th board, who was the principal witness yesterday, was examined by Julius Henry Cohen, chairman of the com. Ittee on the unlawful practice of the law of the New York County Lawyers Association, and by Charles L. Apfel of the law firm of Cass & Apfel, who filed the petition.

Mr. Stone admitted that in cases where the board sues for its members or others.

the board sues for its members or others in the jewelry trade it gets one-third of the sum collected. He said he didn't think the association ever took assignments of claims and then sued in the name of its employees, but Mr. Apfel offered a com-plaint in evidence in which the name of an employee of the association figured as Mr. Stone admitted also that the asso-

The new Missouri Pacific notes are quoted at 93 1/2 bid, 94 1/2 offered. There is, however, a very small market, so that ts, nowever, a very small market, so that quotations are practically nominal. Under the circumstances it is easily understandable why the notes should sell where they do and, if pressed for sale, even lower. The experience of the holders of the old notes does not recommend this security for investment in the slightest degree, and as for speculative nurshasses, the normal as for speculative purchases, the pos-sibility that the notes bought in by George Gould would come to market on any firm Gould would come to market on any firm bid is all too obvious. But outside of the notes, the market for the other securities of the company exhibits a conspicu-ous lack of enthusiasm over the announcement that the Gould family will remain in control. It is stated that a reorganiza-tion of the financial structure of the property will be undertaken by the Gould interests, but it is quite well realized that the financial genius of George Gould does not lie in that direction. The vari-ous classes of bonds of the Missouri Pacific road have been unsatable in any quantity for months. They were selling at significantly low prices a week ago, and they are selling there now. could be no better cyriticism of the situa-

Minimum of Speculation.

What market there was yesterday was made up of specialties. Beet Sugar, Brooklyn Ranid Transit. Lehigh Valley, Montana Power and Westinghouse took the centre of the stage. Transactions in the usual leaders were so insignificant as to represent the absolute minimum of speculative effort on either side of the speculative effort on either side of the account. A considerable number of ordinarily active shares were not traded in at all. Among these Erie was perhans the most striking instance. Erie is not simply a local stock. On the contrary, it is an international favorite, listed on all the leading markets of the world. A day that passes without a single transaction in Effective makers a record for dulers hard. Effe makes a record for dulness hard to beat. The foilure of Erie to appear on the list was all the more remarkable be-cause rumors of the day were fairly busy cause rumors of the day were fairly busy with guesses as to the time of the decision in the railroad rate case. Chesaneske and Ohlo was another issue consulcuous for its absence, especially since it was outed ex dividend. Apparently the rather active trading in it on Thursday represented a covering of small short contracts in preparation for this event.

THE PHILADELPHIA MARKET.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—The market experienced its duliest day of the season. Price changes were mostly fractional There was some selling of Tonopah and Tonopah Belmont, both losing a fraction. Small blocks of Philadelphia Electric were taken at last night's close. Traction stocks and Steel insulations of the season of the season. and Steel issues were forgotten. Ar-bitrage trading was almost nil. The sum-
